

Annual Horse Show Begins at Capital; Pershing a Winner

Much Visiting Back and Forth Among Prominent Box-holders at Event.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Washington, D. C., May 12.

The annual Washington Horse Show opened to-day with many notable assemblages in the boxes alongside the ring. The attendance was rather small, because the social calendar is crowded, and there are four more days in which to take in the show.

The women in their smart gowns and bright colored hats contributed a gay note which was further accentuated by the giant flags used as decorations. There was much visiting about from box to box. Tea was served in the gayly decorated booth at one end of the grandstand and in the boxes, pretty girls serving at waitresses.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, who succeeded the late William Corcoran as president of the Horse Show Association, and Mrs. Grayson occupied a box, and had as guests Senator and Mrs. Peter G. Gerry and Mr. and Mrs. Carter Phelps of New York. Mrs. Grayson looked very well in a pink gown and a big feather hat. For the most part, however, the dark gowns were worn in deference to threatening showers.

Col. Robert M. Thompson and Brig.-Gen. James A. Buchanan, both presidents of the association, attended. Col. and Mrs. Thompson were hosts to several guests in their box, and with Gen. Buchanan was his daughter, Mrs. Victor Buchanan, who came all the way from Porto Rico to enter her string of horses in the show.

In the Pershing Box.

Gen. Pershing's box was occupied by his aid, Col. Duncan Major, who had with him Col. and Mrs. William C. Rivers, Senior Cardinals of the Spanish Embassy and Miss Josephine Patton. Baroness de Carle was a guest of Mr. William Phelps Eno, who also entertained Miss Betty Connolly. Mr. Eno's sister, Mrs. Charles Boulton Wood, had a box and had as her guests Senator and Mrs. George P. McLean and Mrs. John P. Montgomery of Portland, Ore. With Mrs. W. Harry Brown of Pittsburgh, were Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, Mrs. T. De Witt Tamm, Mrs. James McDonald, Mrs. Robert Carson and Mrs. Francis Brown. The Commissioner and Mrs. Cuno H. Rudolph had as their guests Mrs. Clarence Day, Mrs. Victor Kaufman, Mrs. Frank Kight and Mrs. Septimus Austin.

Miss Ann Hamlin and Miss Katherine Mackay of New York shared a box and had some of the young attaches of the British Embassy with them. Another party of young people was entertained jointly by Miss Julia Whiting and Miss Ruth Hitchcock. Mrs. Howard Hume and Mrs. M. B. Cochran were among their guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Cary L. Grayson entertained Mrs. Henry Getty Clifton, Mrs. Thomas T. Garff and others. Mrs. Eugene Cowley, Mrs. George L. Brown, Mrs. John W. and Mrs. Lutz Anderson were hosts in their box to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mitchell, Mrs. J. Mayhew, and others. The chestnut gelding was ridden by Lieut. T. H. McCrea. The summaries:

Gen. Pershing's Horse Wins. The outstanding feature of the horse show was the performance of Dandy Dude, Gen. John J. Pershing's gray gelding, who won first honors in the individual event, a dressage, light weight. A beautiful silver loving cup was presented by W. P. Van Winkle.

President Harding's horse, Harebell, while not entered to-day, gave an exhibition. The chestnut gelding was ridden by Lieut. T. H. McCrea. The summaries:

Illustrators Hold Party Celebrating Exhibit's Opening

Number of Clever Groups and Drawings Displayed at Art Center.

A novel party was given at the Art Center, 65 East Fifty-sixth street, last evening by the members of the Society of Illustrators to celebrate the opening of their "Exhibition of Playtime Stuff," which will continue until Saturday, May 27.

Many unusual exhibits were displayed. Probably one of the oddest was a group of children's bones, stuck together with sealing wax, representing the evolution of mankind from the cave period to the present or "hooh period." These were done by the children of the Society of Illustrators. Other exhibits of art which attracted the attention of the guests were a number of toys made by Edward Penfield, a picture entitled "An Old Man," by Charles Dana Gibson, a number of Hildegarde masks by W. T. Benda, a model of an old ship by Gordon Grant and a picturesque model of a typical French market square, modeled by Mrs. Helena Boyton.

During the evening Robert E. Sherwood presented his picture "Through Hollywood with Gun and Camera," which depicts the wanderings of a man through the various studios in the movie city; one of the French productions entitled "The Young Painter," and also scenes from the Costume dance held at Delmonico's, in which many members of the organization were present.

Among the members of the society are the Messrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Edward Penfield, Walter Enright, J. Knowles, Hare, Lejander Hiller, Herb Roth, William Fairchild, Edward Wilson, Clare Briggs, Fontaine Fox, R. M. Brinkerhoff, Harrison Cady, Charles Bull, Frank de C. Casey, Charles B. Falls, Tony Sarg, George Hillman, William Johnston, Wallace Morgan, Walter Oberholzer, Norman Price, W. A. Rogers, Jack Sheridan, Frederick Strohman and Charles D. Williams.

BURDETT-COUTTS ART BRINGS ONLY $677,000

Sale Was Expected to Pass Million Total.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, London, May 12.

The sale of the famous Burdett-Coutts art collection ended to-day with realization of only a little more than half of the sum that was expected. The total sales amounted to $677,000. It had been hoped that the sale would bring in more than $1,000,000.

From an art viewpoint, however, the sale was a great success, as anything really good brought a high price, but little was paid for the things whose sole merit lay in the historical associations.

Jesse L. Lasky Sails To-day to Meet Foreign Authors.

To try to interest more European authors in writing directly for the screen, Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, will sail to-day on the Olympic for a five week sojourn in England, France, Spain, Italy, Austria and Germany.

Mr. Lasky will meet Vicente Blasco Ibañez, author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," in Madrid and discuss the details of the Paramount picture, "Blood and Sand," starring Rodolph Valentino, which is now being made from Blasco's book and play.

Among the authors whom Mr. Lasky is going to confer with are Sir James M. Barrie, Arnold Bennett, Edward Knell, John Galsworthy, Robert Hitchcock and Rudyard Kipling in England; Andre Riviere and Henri Duvernois in France; Melchior Lengyel in Germany; Arthur Schnitzler and Ernst Klein in Austria; Perle Molnar and Andras Nagy in Hungary; Ibanez and Martinez Sierra in Spain and Dario Nicodemini, Gino Rocca and Enrico Serra in Italy. An effort will be made to bring some of them here to write for the screen.

Mr. Lasky was guest of honor at a luncheon given at Delmonico's yesterday by Adolph Zukor, president of the company. There were twenty-six guests, including Felix Kahn, Gilbert Miller and Hugo Riesendorf.

ARCHITECTS BACK SAGE PLAN.

The Architectural League of New York in a resolution passed at the executive meeting held yesterday expressed its approval of the organized effort to bring back to New York City and its environs as outlined by the Russell Sage Foundation.

Summons charging failure to pay the State fee will come up to-day in the West Side Court against the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and the Film Exchange. The Big U Film Exchange Corporation of 1600 Broadway, which was also served with a summons, was held for trial in Special Sessions after a representative was examined in the West Side Court last Monday.

ENGLISH ACTRESS SAILING. Mrs. Penelope Wheeler, English actress and lecturer who has been giving interpretations of ancient Greek plays in a number of the larger schools and colleges in the East, and public lectures as well, sails to-day for England where she will spend the summer. Mrs. Wheeler plans to return to the United States in the fall and resume her work along even more extensive lines.

SCHUMANN-HEINK III. PONCA CITY, Okla., May 12.—Mrs. Ernestine Schumann-Heink was unable to appear to-day at the University of Chicago because of a severe cold which developed on her way here, it was announced to-day. The remainder of her tour also has been cancelled on the advice of her physician, the announcement said. She will leave to-morrow for Chicago to undergo treatment.

Notes of the Stage

Kenneth MacKenzie, playing with Lucile Watson in "The Nest" at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre, has written the book and lyrics of a musical comedy, which will break in on the Y. M. C. A. circuit, new addition to theatrical territory. It will be produced by the Y. M. C. A. branch, Brooklyn, on May 25, and if Brooklyn approves of it there's no telling how far it may go.

"Roll Drummond," Charles Dillingham's production at the Knickerbocker Theatre, will be closed to-night, the decision having been arrived at by almost the suddenness with which deeds are done in the musical comedy. The cast will leave for England, in order to keep in touch with the native tongue.

Frances White and Taylor Holmes will give a special matinee of "The Hotel Mouse" at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre to-day. During the convention of the American Detective Association, when the hotel sleuths will have an opportunity of possibly learning something about tracking a "hot" thief from the musical comedy, you never can tell!

For his summer use as costumes in "The Bluebird" at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre Cecil Lean received yesterday ten suits of clothes of the latest design cut from his London tailor, who is his brother of course, by special appointment. He will don them beginning June 1, but how many he will do at once is not mentioned.

Arrangements were made yesterday with Lee Shubert and Harry Corson Clarke, who in season at the Globe Theatre, to have a private disclosure of the English theatrical comedy, "The Rotter," to book the play at the Globe Theatre for three performances, beginning May 19, when decision will be made by the three powers sitting in joint conference as to whether it can stand the wear and tear of a Broadway run.

To Cobb last night entertained the Detroit Tigers at the Century Theatre to see "The Rose of Stamboul," and while watching the work of Tessa Kotka, James Barton and Marion Green they expressed the opinion that Barton would make the best base stealer among them all.

Miss Louisa Grody, playing the feminine lead in "Good Morning, Dearie," decorated the stage of the Globe Theatre for the second night with flowers and tulle brought from her recently acquired estate in Great Neck, and imported to Broadway by the express, in order that the neighborhood might steal them over the fence.

The New York extension of the League of Nations, which is to be given by the Ritz Theatre last night to see "The Advertising of Kate," by Mrs. Annie Nathan Meyer.

In a cablegram to S. Hurok, her American concert manager, Mme. Yesenin, to give the dancer her new name, said that midway on their journey they encountered a snowstorm, accompanied by a violent wind that almost drove their airplane to the ground. But they came through it unharmed.

Mrs. Cathleen Colford was enabled yesterday to reduce her 1915 tax assessment in New York from a basis of $1,000,000 property valuation to one of $150,000. She had previously obtained that at the time of the assessment, when she was Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, she was a resident of Newport and had only small bank deposits in this jurisdiction.

Mrs. Belmont Tiffany of 67 East Ninety-second street received permission to reopen the default which the city took against her for $100 unpaid personal taxes. She said that when she was assessed in 1909 in Richmond, it was on a basis of $300,000, when her personal property in that borough was only $1,177.60.

KOUSSEVITSKY TO LEAD CINCINNATI ORCHESTRA

Receives Cable Offer to Be Successor to Ysaye.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, Paris, May 12.

Serge Koussevitsky has received a cable from the manager of the Cincinnati Orchestra offering him the position of conductor, to succeed Eugen Ysaye. It is understood he will accept. He is one of the conductors of the Paris Opera, and also is conducting a series of Russian concerts here which have attracted much attention.

In anticipation of going to London Monday to conduct the Russian series there, Koussevitsky to-day insured his left arm for 1,000,000 francs. The Paris papers compare this with the insurance of 200,000 on Fritz Kreisler's hands.
